

With 15Five AI you can actually drive performance with your performance management platform.

Designed to seamlessly integrate into your daily workflow, 15Five AI leverages cutting-edge generative AI technology to help managers and HR leaders drive impact on engagement, performance, and retention – from diagnosing to planning and taking action.

For Managers

15Five AI isn't just an assistant; it's an AI-powered co-pilot. Whether you're conducting 1:1s or delivering performance reviews, our AI algorithms work in the background to provide real-time insights and recommendations. The result? More effective, impactful interactions with your team, every time.

How do I have a meaningful 1-on-1 with my direct reports that can enable productivity?

It's great that you're thinking about this type of conversation with your direct reports.

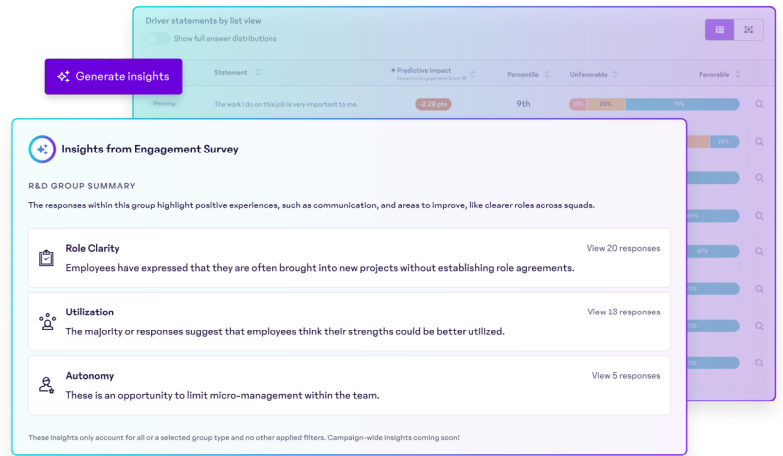

First off, keep it positive and supportive. Share your goals for increased productivity and ask for their input too. Discuss what's currently working well and what could be improved. Encourage them to share their challenges openly. Remember, it's not about micromanaging, but rather finding ways to collaborate better.
